New White Way to Flash on Tomorrow Night

Many Guests Expected At Library Open House Friday Afternoon, Night

New Building Big Advance In 30 Years of Local Enterprise

Guests from out of town will be present tomorrow at the open house of the Antioch township library to which the whole township is invited. Hosts for the occasion are members of the library board and staff who will receive from 2 to 9 p. m. They will conduct the visitors through the various rooms of the new library home, explaining the arrangement of books and other reading materials.

There will be special displays in celebration of National Book week and refreshments will be served. Marion Rigby, the librarian, announced.

The cozy new library building is a fulfillment of a dream of those who first organized a library in this community.

Conceived 30 Years Ago

Some thirty years ago The Antioch Woman's club named a committee to carry out the club's desire to give Antioch a library. The members of this committee, Mrs. Wm. Ziegler, Mrs. Oliver Matthews, Mrs. William Watson, Mrs. John Brogan, Miss Leonora Hughes and Miss Alice E. Smith, collected books and rented a few shelves in Walter Chihns candy store for the books.

By selling candy, giving card parties and the services of the committee as voluntary librarians, the resources of the library grew until the club was able to install it in the village hall and hire Miss Mary Stanley as the first librarian.

In May, 1920, a newly created village library board, adopted by-laws and elected as officers: Elmer Brook, Pres., Mrs. Oliver Matthews, secretary. Others members of that first board were Dr. R. D. Williams (who is still active), Robert King, Mrs. John Brogan and Mrs. W. W. Warriner. This board found space in the Antioch Grade school for the rapidly expanding library.

Township Board in 1937

In June 1937, at the first meeting of the Antioch Township Library board the following officers were elected:

Mrs. Eleanor Micheli, president, R. D. Williams, secretary, and Mrs. M. W. Rigby, treasurer. The following year, the library moved to the Elms building and in December, 1941, the library moved to the Masonic hall. In October, 1942, Miss Stanley resigned because of ill health and Miss Betty Lu Williams was appointed librarian. Miss Wil-

Chesney Farms Barn Burns With $40,000 Loss in Hay and Grain

A large hay and grain barn on the Chesney farm of Otto Lehmann on the east side of Rte. 59 south of the Grand ave., intersection was destroyed by fire Friday with a loss estimated at $40,000.

The Antioch fire department joined the Lake Villa and Fox Lake Ingleides departments in preventing the spread of the flames to other buildings.

Cause of the blaze is believed to be defective wiring.

One hundred tons of baled hay and 3,000 bushels of oats were consumed by the flames, but several tractors and other equipment were saved from a shed adjoining the barn.

The blaze was discovered by John Bodeman, a farm hand who turned in the alarm to the Lake Villa department. Because of the shortage of water, the Antioch department was asked to send its tank truck.

Eugene Pride, 7, son of the foreman, Louis Pride, told his mother the barn was on fire and she drove an automobile from the burning building while her husband saved the tractors.

There were no animals in the building.

Extinguish Grass Fires

The Antioch department made runs to the Willowdale dairy Tuesday evening in extinguishing a brush fire and to the Masek filling station north of the village in the afternoon in putting out a grass fire.

Sequoits Will Open Basketball Season at Wauconda Wednesday

Antioch High will open its basketball season next Wednesday evening at Wauconda.

With only three lettermen left from last year, Coach Richard Scott is having to break in some less experienced men for the first string positions, but there are many candidates who are working hard for the positions.

He had the unpleasant task of cutting down his squad to 28 men during the past week so that he could properly handle them.

His starting lineup for next Wednesday night is far from being selected at this time. Bernard Haviland and his brother, Tom Haviland, are guards from last year's team who seem likely to get the nod.

Jerry Schultz is a varsity player of last year at the post position, and Robert Lubkeman, Jack Prenger and Leroy Schroeder are experienced players.

In addition to them Coach Scott is expecting to make selections from Paul Biel, Forrest Bolton, Tom Cammer, William Garraughty, William Holt, Dennis Kennedy, Fred Nielhill, David Deering, Richard Dittsen, George Nelson and Kenneth Rentner.

The Sequoits will open their home season in playing Northbrook Tuesday, Nov. 28.

Warren Polley, coach of the sophomore team has narrowed his squad to 20. The sophomores will play preliminaries to all varsity games.

Antioch Legion to Be Host to Dist. Meeting Friday Eve'g, Nov. 17

The Antioch Legion post will meet at 8 o'clock this evening in preparing to serve as hosts tomorrow evening to the Tenth District Council meeting at the Legion home.

Lake County post No. 1122 will initiate their members at this meeting and install officers of their "Ouchillary". They have promised some surprises and much fun.

Harold Christensen, commander of the Antioch post is urging all members to attend the district meeting which will start at 8:15 p. m. tomorrow.

The district comprises all of the posts of Lake county and a dozen posts will send representatives.

Elderly Lake Villa Man Struck by Car on Road And Dies of Injuries

William O. Orme, 70, of St. Basil's Rest home, Lake Villa, was killed last Thursday evening while walking along Rte. 21 near Grand ave., when two cars sideswiped and one of them struck him.

Richard O. Sevik, 19, Burlington, Wis., was the driver of the car which struck Orme. He said he attempted to pass the car of Louis Kokoris, Lake Villa, when Orme suddenly loomed in front of him. He said he swerved to the right to prevent hitting the aged man but sideswiped Kokoris' car and was deflected against Orme.

The Antioch Rescue squad was called to the scene but found the elderly man dead when they arrived.

The body was brought to the Strang funeral home and the service was held here Saturday.

"Twirp Week" at H. S. To Be Climaxed By A Sadie Hawkins Dance

"Twirps" will be in full flower at Antioch High school during the week beginning November 27th, according to a release given by the Student Council at the school. A "Sadie Hawkins" dance will be held Friday, December 1, after the basketball game between the Sequoits and Barrington.

In line with Mayor Kennelley's proclamation of Saturday as Sadie Hawkins Day in Chicago, the locals will dress in "Lil Abner and Sadie Hawkins" costumes. Main feature of the "Twirp Week" and the dance will be that the girls will assume the role of aggressors, and will invite the boys for dates and for dances at the dance.

Our Candidate For All-American

Curtain Rises Tonight For Junior Class Play

The curtain will rise at 8 o'clock this evening on the first of two presentations of the Junior class play "Beyond Reason," at the Antioch Township High school auditorium.

A good audience is assured for this evening and the results of the performance and the recommendations of those who see it today are bound to bring out another good crowd for Friday evening.

The play provides a combination of comedy, drama, and mystery. Mrs. Jeanette D. Tulumello, director, is recommending it to Antioch people seeking good entertainment.

Between acts the high school band under the direction of Hans von Holwede will provide special numbers.

Lions Club Provides For New Scout Troop; Good Is Scoutmaster

A new Boy Scout troop No. 92, was instituted with Stewart Good as the Scoutmaster by the Lions club in its meeting at North Shore Gardens Monday evening and Robert Wilton will be assistant Scoutmaster.

John Dupre, Leonard Roblin, Clarence Olsen, Louis Biel and Anthony Scully were appointed as a committee by President Irving Carey, as a committee to guide the new troop and look after its needs. The troop will meet at the Scout house.

Clinton Thompson was chosen to supervise the Cub Scout troop because the former leader has moved from the village, and Roberts Ehrigott will be Scoutmaster.

A nominating committee presented a slate of officers who will be voted upon at the December meeting.

It was announced that the board of directors will meet Monday evening in considering matters of importance.

New Train Schedule Makes Earlier Mail Deposit Necessary

Roy I. Kufalk, postmaster, advised all large mailers of the community that due to earlier departure of the Soo line evening mail trains, mailing of large amounts of mail must be made earlier in the day to insure getting it on the train.

The new, faster schedule is believed due to the greater efficiency of the diesel locomotives now in service on the railroad.

Kufalk said that time for making up the mail would be shorter after Monday, and that it is very possible that large amounts of mail deposited late would not go out the same day. He said that mailers who have large amounts of outgoing mail should plan to have it at the post-office by 4:30 p. m., to be certain that sufficient time was allowed to get it prepared for going out on the evening trains.

Break Ground for Building
Ground was broken this week for the new building on Lake St., that will house the Antioch postoffice and other stores.

Four Are Injured in Crash at Rte. 59 And Beach Grove

Another of the series of automobile accidents which have been occurring at route 59 and Beach Grove road, since most residents can remember, took place today at 6:32 a. m. when a car driven by LeRoy Lunnis, 19, of 4119 W. Fullerton, Chicago, collided with one driven by Arthur Kosik, 62, of Route 3, Antioch.

Lunnis was driving a 1950 Oldsmobile west on Beach Grove road, and Kosik was traveling south on Route 59, in a 1942 Chevrolet.

Lunnis was accompanied by Ronnie Messler, of 4236 Bernice Ave., Chicago and Kosik accompanied by Arnold Kosik. All four of the men were taken to Victory Memorial hospital for treatment of injuries received in the crash. None of the injuries are believed to be serious.

The older Kosik sustained injuries to the chest, ankles and jaw, and his passenger had several cuts about the head and body. Occupants of the Chicago car were cut and bruised. The Antioch Rescue squad was called to the scene and took the men to the hospital.

Firemen Dine on Turkey; Have Great Lakes Guests

Members of the fire department were joined by the Rescue squad in their annual Thanksgiving dinner at the fire station Tuesday evening. Turkey and all of the trimmings were the menu.

Special guests were Walter Evans, fire chief at Great Lakes Naval Training center, his assistant, John Matthews and an instructor, George Trier.

General business was dispensed with on this occasion and the evening spent in a social manner.

Fire Chief Simonsen Aroused at Early Hour To Investigate Car Fire

Fire Chief Edgar Simonsen officiated at a one-man fire call about 4 a. m. yesterday.

Summoned by Mrs. Somerville of Main st., who said that a man appeared to be dumping burning paper from his car in front of the Antioch State bank, Chief Simonsen made personal investigation and learned that a stranger was trying to extinguish a blaze that had started in the cushion of the back seat of his car.

The motorist driving through Antioch from the north, said that he thought he tossed a lighted cigarette out of the window, but evidently sparks blew back in and caught the cushion and some papers.

Simonsen went to the fire station after an extinguisher and when he returned the stranger had driven away, leaving his badly damaged car cushion on the street.

Craft Goes to Hospital

Walter (Lottie) Craft was taken to the General Hospital at Waukegan for care Tuesday after he became delirious from what acquaintances said was an infection of the arms. He is improving. He has been employed as bartender at the Johnson resort.

Antioch Merchants to Be Hosts With Special Sales During Evening for Shoppers Coming To Witness First Use of New Lighting System

Plans for High School Addition Not Yet Complete

Although it was thought that complete plans, in the final form would be ready for inspection by the members of the Antioch township high school board for its regular meeting held last night at the school, it was learned that the firm employed to draft the plans had not as yet been able to complete them.

Members of the board were notified by telephone yesterday that the plans could not be delivered until about the first of December. It was reported last month, at the October meeting of the board, that the plans would be ready for last night's meeting.

R. C. Edmundsen, principal at the school, said today that although this delay was unexpected, that no actual construction would be held up through lateness of the plans, and that construction schedules set up some months ago, would be adhered to, if at all possible. He added that a part of the new facilities would be in use for the start of the next school year, and that with the use of part of the new building, crowded conditions would be somewhat eased. The school year beginning in 1952 will enroll a large enough student body to make use of the new building a necessity.

C. K. Small Dies In Waukegan Hosp.

Cyrus K. Small, 80, of Petite Lake, Lake Villa, died Monday, November 13, at 1:45 p. m. at the Lake County General hospital, Waukegan, following a lingering illness. He was born in Bowdoinham, Maine, October 30, 1870 and for the past three years has made his home at Petite Lake and previous to that in Chicago.

He had been a member of St. Paul's Masonic Lodge A. F. & A. M. at South Boston for the past fifty years. His life's occupation was that of Supt. of Meat Packing Plants, of which he retired several years ago.

He is survived by his wife, Ina, and a daughter, Mrs. Edna Gover, both of Antioch, a brother, Robert Small of Boston, Mass.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at the Strang Funeral home. The Rev. G. Richard Tuttle officiated assisted by Antioch Sequoit Masonic Lodge A. F. & A. M.

Celebration of Armistice Day Fading as Shown in Observance on Saturday

Armistice Day is gradually waning as an important day in the lives of the people of this area, and a new generation is unimpressed with the fact that it marked the end of America's first world war.

The day was observed in Antioch Saturday by a brief service in which a color guard made up of representatives of local patriotic groups marched to the village park, remained for a moment of silence in respect to those who lost their lives in battle during that war and then quietly left.

At the high school a motion picture on the subject was shown. Where a few years ago business places closed for an hour, only the banks closed Saturday and other businesses went on as usual. With a war on in Korea the people did not have the joy of peace that the first armistice day held forth.

The light will be easy on the eyes, having little glare.

WKRS Will Broadcast Report for Aviators

A new weather reporting service is available to Lake county aviators through the facilities of radio stations WKRS and WKRS-FM.

The daily Illinois aviation weather forecast is being carried on the 7:30 a. m. newscast each Monday through Saturday.

The aviation forecast is prepared by the federal weather bureau in Chicago and is transmitted to WKRS over the Associated Press radio wire.

Mayor J. W. McMillen Will Push Button Turning Lights On

A push of a button by Mayor James McMillen at 6 p. m. tomorrow will turn darkness into day for Antioch's downtown business section through a new lighting system.

From 14 standards, mercury vapor lamps of 21,000 lumens will light Main and Lake sts., making the business section one of the most attractive in Northern Illinois.

To make the event more attractive for persons residing in the Antioch area, merchants are putting on special sales for Friday and Friday evening when all stores will be open.

It will be the first time in many years that local merchants have had occasion to play host in such a manner and they are taking advantage of it to make the occasion long to be remembered by shoppers.

The brief ceremony accompanying the turning on of the lights will be emceed by Loren Sexauer, program chairman of the Lions club. He will call on Mayor James McMillen and Lions president Irving Carey for a few remarks.

A public address system will carry their voices over the air, and from this system music will be played.

A plan to have street dancing and other entertainment has been postponed until next spring owing to the uncertainty of the weather.

Credited with providing the new lighting system are the Lions, the village, business men and R. T. Hyre, contractor. The club gave $2,500, the village board appropriated $2,500 and merchants affected by the system gave $2,500. Hyre, as head of the electric Co. that installed the system, made his contribution through a reduction in the bid price to meet the estimate price of $7,500.

The control switch of the lighting system will be at the rear of the Wilton Electric Co. store. The switch will be attached to a timer set to operate on night hours so that when darkness falls, the lights will come on automatically.

The 14 26-foot standards have been placed in staggered positions on both sides of the two streets so that the lighting will be to the best advantage.

The mercury vapor lamps throw a peculiarly white ray which is easy on the eyes. Red colors will have a black look, however, and women will notice this in their facial make-up.

The light will be easy on the eyes, having little glare.

More Boy Scout Troops For Antioch Planned by Men's Organizations

Boy Scouting in Antioch will be expanded greatly this year through efforts of the Lions club, Moose lodge, and American Legion.

Representatives of these groups met Tuesday evening at the Scout home with executives of the North Shore council in planning the addition of two troops.

A leader is now being sought for the original troop, No. 91, sponsored by the American Legion.

At the same time the Lions club has selected the sponsoring committee and leaders for troop to be known as No. 92. The Moose lodge is planning a troop to be known as No. 93.

The 15 local representatives of the three organizations were told that in organizing a new troop they must have a sponsoring committee, leaders and equipment, and that when these are ready, the national office will make the troop official.

With an excellently equipped place for troop meetings the local men who are interested in boys and their welfare are planning to see that the place is used to promote scouting to the fullest extent.

Learn From Past Mistakes

During and immediately after the last war, when price controls and rationing were in effect, a large part of the available supply of many commodities and some foods were siphoned off into the black market. Meat was one of them and "no meat today" signs became common-place in stores.

This obviously deprived most consumers of their proper share of the nation's meat. And, in addition, it presented a definite danger to the public health. A number of essential medicines have their origin in the glands of meat animals. These glands are carefully saved by the legitimate packers. They were not saved by the black market operators, whose sole aim was to make a big profit in a hurry.

In April, 1946, one of the leading manufacturers of medicines, Parke, Davis and Company, said: "The available supplies of animal glands during the past several years have been constantly decreasing. . . . At present the situation is perhaps more critical than at any time since the beginning of the war, and we believe that one important cause is diversion of cattle away from the regularly inspected packing houses into black market channels. This, of course, not only presents a danger from supplying the public with uninspected meats but results in a total waste of all the animal glands, fats, hides, and other by-products."

At about the same time, another leading producer of medicines, Eli Lilly Company, said: "If the black market situation continues much longer someone must be prepared to accept responsibility for shortage of essential drugs such as insulin, and other important drugs such as bile, pituitaries, thyroid and anti-anemia preparations. Our present procurement is very much short of minimum needs and appears to be getting worse right along."

We can profit from the mistakes of the past. Arbitrary economic controls generally create worse problems than those they are supposed to cure.

A Snare and a Delusion

A group of 10 Missouri and Arkansas power companies has charged several high government officials with "a studied and systematic campaign" to force them out of business, and has asked a Federal court for an injunction. The complaint cites misuse of Rural Electrification Administration funds, the violation of the intent of Congress by the Southwestern Power Administration, and other alleged abuses.

Regardless of what happens to this action as it moves through the courts, it is based on a very real and dangerous situation. In practically every section of the country the campaign to destroy private utilities has been aggressively pushed. It used to be argued that government power was simply a by-product of navigation, reclamation, flood control projects, etc.—though in many cases these latter benefits were hardly discernible. Now government agencies, including REA, are going in heavily for the construction of steam generating plants and extensive transmission systems which are good for power production and nothing else.

This might be excusable if we were starving for more power and only government could provide it. The fact is that there is a healthy surplus of power-producing facilities in most regions. The utility's great expansion program is going ahead full blast, and it will take care of any future needs. And, finally, the industry is ready and willing to distribute, over its existing lines, the power generated at government plants, at rates determined by Federal and state agencies.

Government power is a snare and a delusion—and the real motive behind it is socialization of basic industries in the United States.

Geler, on Grand Ave., Sunday evening. Seventeen guests were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cosgrove, of Elmhurst, Mrs. Helen Christiansen and family, of Union Grove, Wis., and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Neahous, of Antioch, spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Neahous, who were celebrating their 49th wedding anniversary.

Scientists Predict Healthy Age of 100 For U.S. in Future

NEW YORK—America's old folks will be healthier and happier in the next generation.

That's the report from Dr. Charles E. Dutches, medical director of Schenley laboratories and one of the nation's experts on geriatrics, the new medical specialty concerned with diseases of the aged.

"Medical science has added years to the human lifespan," says Dutches, "and now is in the process of adding life and vigor to the added years."

Modern medicine has made the age of longevity a reality, raising the average life expectancy nearly 20 years. Today there are over 11 million Americans in the 65-and-over age group, as against only 3 million in this category in 1900. Present estimates are that there will be at least 20 million Americans 65 and over by 1980.

This striking increase in life expectancy has been accomplished by a combination of new and potent medical weapons—such as "wonder drugs" as penicillin and streptomycin, better care and treatment methods, and preventive medicine as practiced by the geriatricians.

According to Dutches, the next generation will see increasing numbers of healthy men and women of 100 matching the economic and social accomplishments of today's 40-year-olds.

"The chief threat to the aged at the present lies in the so-called degenerative diseases," explains Dutches, "which cripple and strike down people of 40 and over."

"Recent research indicates that arteriosclerosis, coronary thrombosis and degenerative diseases in general are caused by nutritional deficiencies. There is reason to believe that new drugs will soon be available to combat this disturbance of cellular nutrition."

But the Schenley executive does not believe the entire problem of happier and healthier aged can be solved by drugs alone.

"Old people must have a sense of participation and continued purpose in life," he says. "They must feel that they are useful citizens, not a burden on their family, friends and country."

Dutches believes that the experts in human and industrial relations must help the aged "in making a successful emotional adjustment to the oncoming years."

He feels, too, that a way must be found to employ the able-bodied aged in useful economic services.

"When we solve these problems," adds Dutches, "we will begin to realize the full potential of our longer lifespan."

Army Chaplain Gets DSC For Valor in Korean War

TOKYO, Japan — A chaplain has been awarded the distinguished service cross for his work in the Korean war.

Chaplain Herman G. Felhoelter, of Cincinnati, voluntarily stayed behind to give spiritual comfort and aid to seriously wounded men who could not be evacuated in the face of an overwhelming night attack by superior North Korean forces on the Kum river north of Taejon.

"When I last seen, Chaplain Felhoelter was still administering to the wounded," the army said. "He is believed to have been killed. His valorous deed was an inspiration to every member of the regiment."

Girl Wins Fight to Stay In Malay With Foster Mother

SINGAPORE — Thirteen-year-old Bertha de Hartogh, who grew up in the jungle, won a high-court appeal against a decision to return her to civilization in Holland.

The Singapore court of appeal reversed an earlier decision that the girl should be handed back to her parents, who left her with a native governess when they fled from Japanese invaders in 1942.

Bertha, one of six children of a Dutch army sergeant and his wife, grew up in a Malay jungle village with her foster mother, Aminah, after her parents were interned by the Japanese.

Released in 1945, the parents were unable to find the child. However, a traveler in northern Malaya saw her running naked with brown-skinned village children and reported her presence to authorities.

Man, Mule, Dog on Pulaski Skyway Cause Traffic Jam

JERSEY CITY, N. J.—Clarence Hornback wanted to go back home to Galesburg, Ill., and so he took the best highway he could find and caused the worst traffic jam in history.

Nobody told Hornback the Pulaski skyway, main road from New York to Philadelphia, wasn't for mules. So he started down it with his mule and dog.

Police found him shuffling along the elevated highway being trailed by a long, long line of cars. While police were escorting him off the road, the strap holding the pack on the mule let go. Assorted bundles scattered over the road. Policemen scurried around clearing up the debris. By the time the situation cleared, traffic had backed up about four miles.

Lake Villa Church News

Interest is increasing weekly in the adult department of the Sunday school. The group is currently studying the early portion of the old Testament, and applying its lessons to modern day problems of theology and ethics. Attendance is nicely balanced between men and women and between younger and older adults. Good singing and grand fellowship characterize the warm friendly sessions in the parsonage. New members are being received weekly.

The Memorial Service held last year in honor of deceased loved ones on All Saints Day will be repeated this year as a Christian Heroes Service, and will be held Sunday at the 11:00 worship hour. Special prayers and Liturgies commemorating the heroes of past and present church life will be read following a reading of a roll of Honor listing loved ones whose names are submitted to the pastor. A special sermon "That Endless Line of Splendor" will be delivered by the pastor. This was one of the most popular "special" services last year and it is believed that an even greater number of worshippers will find their way to church this Sunday as a living memorial to their loved ones. There will also be a brief dedication service for books given to the church library by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Zagarshi of Venetian Village in memory of their infant son. Names for the Honor Roll may be called in to Lake Villa 6-4871, mailed to the pastor, or handed to an usher before 11:00 a. m. Sunday morning.

Sunday, Nov. 26, is Membership Sunday again. Anyone wishing to join the church by confession of faith, transfer from any evangelical denomination, or statement may do so by consulting with the pastor previous to the service. There will also be a service of baptism for youth and adults, which is open to all who profess Jesus Christ as their Savior.

TWO EUCHARISTS AT ST. IGNATIUS' CHURCH THANKSGIVING DAY

In order that all parishioners may truly return thanks on Thanksgiving Day, there will be two celebrations of the Holy Eucharist, at 8:00 and 9:30 a. m.

Toothpick Goes Glamorous With Colors, Flavor

MERRILL, Wis. — The toothpick has gone glamorous, taking on colors and flavor.

The Merrill Woodenware Co. was in need of greater market. The answer was found in red, green and blue toothpicks and mint flavors added.

They were first exposed to a market in the south and were such a success they will appear nationally. To all appearances the firm is going to have the biggest year in its 45 year history, thanks to the new twists on an old stand-by.

Since the firm was purchased by W. D. Brown, Jr., in 1948, the emphasis has been on more toothpicks. The firm has spent $50,000 in developing and constructing in its own shops the intricate machinery required to produce 15 to 20 million toothpicks a day.

Largest Manufacturer

In 1950 the firm will stamp out 125,000 cases of toothpicks (30,000 to a case) for the world market, compared to 20,000 cases last year.

The big production gain will make the firm the nation's biggest toothpick maker. One reason, and probably the main one, is the firm's new and unique machinery which can stamp out toothpicks hundreds at a time from clean, straight basswood "ribbons."

Buying only top class basswood, the firm cuts it into two foot lengths which are then shaved into "ribbons" a little thicker than a toothpick and a little wider than a toothpick is long. The ribbons are fed into dies on the stamping machines, which punch out flat toothpicks. These are cleaned and polished, then dried before coloring and flavoring.

Flavor Is Added

As the toothpicks move down the drying platform, they are jigged and bathed in moving air until they are dry enough to set off a delicate tilting mechanism. This drops them into a sorting and rejection machine.

Flavor is added in a separate soaking and drying operation.

In addition to the packaged retail toothpicks, the company also packs large cartons of loose toothpicks for carload sale. Four such cars this year were sent to markets in China, Japan and other eastern countries.

"You'd be surprised how many people still use toothpicks as toothpicks," said Frank Schuster, manager of the firm's Tomahawk plant. "But a great deal of them are used for food preparation and handling, such as at parties. People like the colored models. They help to brighten up a table."

Three R's Still Being Taught in One-Man Schools

MINNEAPOLIS — Despite substantial school construction and modernization programs in the mid-western states, the little red schoolhouse is far from extinct, a recent study of the nation's public school system revealed.

Some 75,000 one-teacher schools are still in operation, reports R. H. Jacobs, director of the school division of Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator company, even though an average of 108 new schools were completed in each of 12 mid-western states last year.

"These nostalgic but nonetheless obsolete one-teacher schools actually account for nearly half of the existing public schools today," Jacobs said. "Almost 1,500,000 youngsters form their first impression of school and our educational system in these under-manned, over-crowded classrooms. Small wonder children still frown and wince at the mention of the word school."

Jacobs, however, on the basis of a nationwide poll of city, county and diocesan school administrators, was optimistic about the facilities for the postwar crop of 7,000,000 children who will enter schools next year. He pointed out that the U.S. department of labor, for example, reveals that $297,000,000 has been authorized for school construction during the first three months of 1950 alone.

Doris Duke to Raise Pigs On Special Diet, No Swill

SOMERVILLE, N. J. — The Hillsborough township board of health has given Doris Duke, tobacco heiress, permission to enter the pig-raising business provided no garbage is brought in to feed her porkers.

The $50,000 project on Duke Farms, complete with atomizers to keep down odors, had been held up because the sanitary code prohibits the importation of garbage into the township.

The board said Duke farms could engage in as large a hog raising operation as it wished as long as it abided by three regulations. The food must not be imported swill, a permit must be obtained from the board of health, and the business must in no way constitute a nuisance.

The farm manager said the hogs would be raised on a grain and corn diet and that the operation would be run in accordance with the decisions of the board.

Meringue Bars

Grownup girls, too, can remind the family of the poem "Sugar and spice and all things nice . . ." when these cookies are served. They're called Spice Meringue Bars and easy as breathing to make. Beat 2 egg whites until stiff. Then gradually beat in ¼ cup sugar and ½ tsp. vanilla. Blend in 1 package spice cake mix (the prepared just-add-water kind) with 1 cup lukewarm water. Grease a 7x11-inch pan with unsalted shortening, line with greased waxed paper. Pour batter into pan and spread meringue on top with spatula. Sprinkle with ½ cup chopped walnuts or blanched almonds and bake in preheated gas oven (350° F.) for 35-40 mins. Cook in pan for 10 mins. before turning out. When cold, cut down center lengthwise and across in 1-inch bars. Yield: 22 cookies.

Bright but Tough

Bicycles must be able to withstand hard knocks, but they should be eye-catchingly beautiful, too. The finishes have to be durable—so that they resist chipping and cracking—and have to give long-lasting protection against weathering. To meet the demands of modern youth, color-wise, they are produced in blue, green, red and yellow, combined with chrome and contrasting colors for decoration.

Red in Strawberries

Pigment anthocyanin is the reason that strawberries are red, and one two-hundredths of an ounce is sufficient to color one pound of berries.

Entertainment Lifesaver

Impromptu entertaining, such as a backyard picnic with the family next door, is lots of fun now that the weather is cooperative. And you can swing it without too much work if you have food reserves in the refrigerator.

The guest-night menu can be based on meat loaf and potato salad. Bake two meat loaves early in the week—one for dinner that night, one to go in the refrigerator. Cook potatoes and eggs for potato salad as you get breakfast some morning. Simmer both in the same pan of water with eggs on top; take eggs out as soon as they're cooked.

Kansas Poultry

The comparative standing of the poultry industry in relation to other leading farm enterprises in Kansas was fourth in 1948. Wheat was first, cattle and calves second, dairy products third, and hogs fifth.

Human Ant Eaters

According to an official of the South African native affairs department, the Shangaan natives of the Transvaal and Rhodesia would have starved without such dietary items as ants, locusts, caterpillars, and beetles. Fried ants, he reports, taste something like crisp, sweet-and-sharp bacon, and are high in vitamin content.

First Submarine

Submarine warfare had its beginning during the Revolutionary war, but with an inglorious introduction. In 1777 David Bushnell, inventor of a little round submarine called "the Turtle," tried to drag a box of gunpowder against the British frigate, Cerebus. His mine became fouled and he sank a friendly schooner instead.

Powerful X-Ray Reduces Cancer Inside Bodies

LONDON—Cancers growing inside human bodies are being reduced or wiped out by a powerful new X-ray, medical scientists report.

The X-rays are 2,000,000 to 23,000,000 volts in power, the strongest ever used medically. They come from super X-ray machines of various kinds.

They can reach deeper into the body, with more punch. They don't affect all cancers, for some tumors resist X-rays or at least have not been affected by less powerful rays.

One machine, a Van de Graaf generator, produces 2,000-volt X-rays. This means X-rays with double the power of all the medical radium in the world, said Dr. John G. Trump of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The rays can deliver 60 percent of their tremendous energy to cancers three or four inches deeper inside the body, he said. They speed through the skin, bone, and other tissues without doing much damage to these healthy tissues. They don't slow down enough for damaging work until they have gone a few inches.

A rediscovered trick of treatment makes the beam even more potent, Dr. Trump said. This is to put the patient on a turntable, revolving slowly, to change the angle of the X-ray bombardment.

The cancer then gets the X-ray from all sides. There is far less chance of injuring the skin where the beam enters, or other healthy tissue. This rotating idea was first tried in England nearly 40 years ago, but at a time when there were no X-ray beams that would concentrate deep in the body.

In 100 patients treated since last October, the cancers have shrunk each time, and some still are shrinking, Dr. Trump said. These included cancers of the head, neck, breast, lungs, and pelvic organs.

It still is too early to know whether anyone has been cured, but "we are hopeful the results will show more cures than by conventional methods of X-ray treatment," Dr. Trump said. The patients are far less likely to suffer from radiation sickness, he added.

Shrinking of deep cancers with 23,000,000-volt X-rays was described by Dr. Roger A. Harvey of the University of Illinois. These rays come from a betatron, a doughnut-shaped atom-smashing machine.

In 23 patients, all with advanced cancer, the cancer has shrunk each time, so far as can be observed, Dr. Harvey said. Whether any of the 23 will recover can't be predicted.

58 Persons Die in Crash Of DC-4 in Lake Michigan

ST. JOSEPH, Mich. — About 19 miles northwest of St. Joseph, at the bottom of Lake Michigan, is the remains of a giant DC-4 which crashed and carried 58 persons to their death in the worst air disaster in the nation's history.

It probably will never be known what caused the crash. Debris scattered over the area indicated a tremendous crash or explosion. Most pieces of wreckage were no more than inches square.

Searchers found hundreds of pieces of the foam rubber cushions. Coastguardsmen, using boat hooks, fished wreckage from the lake. They brought up a pair of brown wool trousers, the pockets empty and the buckle ripped from the belt.

There were some flight kits, maps bearing the name of Northwest Airlines, a man's white handkerchief, a bank book of the National City Bank of New York, a green jacket of a woman's dress, a man's shorts and parts of bodies.

Among the debris was a child's shoes and a little girl's rag doll. The doll was one of the few things that came out of the crash complete and intact.

Disintegration must have been complete when the plane struck the water. That was all that remained of a giant, proud airliner.

Prices Irk Cherry Grower; Orders Trees Cut Down

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich.—George Washington, so legend says, cut down one cherry tree. Fred E. Reed of Sutton's Bay did better than that, however. He ordered workers to cut down his orchard of 250 trees.

It all came about when Reed was offered only 4 cents a pound for his crop of Michigan sour cherries. "I'll clear the ground and raise strawberries," Reed declared flatly.

Last year's crop of Michigan sour cherries brought 9 cents a pound. Packers are offering 4 cents for this year's early crop, but promised growers additional payment (possibly up to 3 cents a pound) later if the price of the processed pack warrants it.

But Reed isn't interested in subsidy prices.

"When I can't raise cherries and make a profit without depending on price supports I'll quit growing them," he declared.

The only trees he left standing were a few for his personal use.

Human Carriers Of Polio Virus, Science Believes

NEW YORK—Human beings are the spreaders of polio, scientists are beginning to believe. The shrewdest work has failed to prove anything except that other sources of polio are infected from people.

Scientists observed that in polio outbreaks the disease is spread along railroad routes, bus routes, rivers and valleys. There sometimes did not seem to be much in uplands.

Mosquitoes were suspected. Other bugs, too. Something had to be carrying it along these routes. But nothing at all was proved against insects, not even the flies, though polio virus, sometimes was found on, and inside flies.

The human chain explains easily. Polio spreads along these routes because that is where people live in the largest numbers.

Another mystery is why polio epidemics occur only in hot weather. The disease runs the year round. If hot weather alone were the explanation for epidemics, these outbreaks would be expected to last longer in the South than in the North. But they don't.

In the South the epidemics start earlier. They reach their peaks earlier. But after about two months, even though hot weather may be far from over, the southern epidemics begin to decline.

The short duration of the epidemics can be explained on the theory that human beings are the spreaders.

In two months the infection may spread to most of those who are susceptible, keeping in mind that its real spread, to the silent cases, is 200 times more than among the openly sick. The chain reaction begins then to break down from lack of enough susceptible victims.

Vegetables have been suspected because epidemics begin soon after the start of the fresh-vegetable season. Early cases are often found on farms. But no sign of polio virus has been found in vegetables.

Occasionally a polio outbreak has been traced along a milk route. But the virus has yet to be discovered in milk. All trails, except the human pathway, so far end in blind alleys.

Neighbor's 'Play by Play' Account Breaks Up Robbery

LOUISVILLE, KY. — A "play by play" description to the police switchboard of a burglary attempt on a tavern ended with arrival of police and capture of the burglars.

A neighborhood woman phoned police. "One of them just pulled out a ventilator fan and he's climbing in through the hole," she said. "Another man is just standing on the corner."

The lookout stared in disbelief when four police cars disgorged 10 patrolmen who took him into custody along with his partner in the tavern, who hadn't touched a thing yet.

Late Marriage Is Reason For Fewer Children, Report

NEW YORK—College graduates, averaging around 49 years old and out of school a quarter of a century, have a deficiency of 26 per cent in the number of children born to assure replacement, according to findings of Dr. W. A. Anderson, Cornell university rural sociologist.

Dr. Anderson studied 1436 graduates (1,126 men and 310 women) of the Cornell classes of 1919, 1920 and 1921, and found the deficit of men graduates was 21 per cent, and for women, 41 per cent.

He based this on the fact it takes 2.22 live-born children for each college graduate for the son or daughter to reach college graduation age of mother or father. The Cornellians averaged 1.64 children.

Of the entire group studied, 85 per cent were married, 11 per cent single, 1 per cent divorced, and 2 per cent widowed.

Men established their families at about 29 years of age, and the women at about 28. This late age of marriage is given as a chief reason why college graduates do not on the average have enough children to replace themselves. The students received their diplomas at the average age of 23 years.

The reproduction rates of Cornell graduates are practically the same as those of other colleges, says Dr. Anderson.

Phone Pickets at Waukegan

Antioch escaped picketing of Western Electric Co., employees and as the result did not have the service interruption Monday as the Waukegan exchange did. The switchboard installation workers, on strike for higher wages, have been going from city to city in setting up picket lines for short durations. Operators refuse to cross the lines.

Grant to Vote on Bond Issue

The Grant Township High school district will vote on Dec. 9 on a bond issue of $1,220,000 to pay for the building of an addition to the high school that will more than double the capacity of the present building. The addition is based on a growing enrollment which will reach 800 in 1957.

FARM BUREAU DELEGATES

AT I. A. A. MEETING THIS WEEK Lake County Farm Bureau delegates, headed by Ronald Paddock, President, are attending sessions of the 36th Annual meeting of the Illinois Agricultural Association in Chicago this week. The other four official delegates are Ray Flood, Libertyville; Harry Matthews, McHenry; Avery Vose, Antioch; Bert Edwards, Antioch.

Alternate delegates include E. E. Elsbury, vice president; and directors John Stiehr, Wadsworth; Michael Zimmer, Prairie View; Stanley Rouse, Mundelein; and Henry Knight, Mundelein.

Others from Lake County who attended the I. A. A. Annual meeting and annual meetings of subsiding organizations included Ray T. Nicholas, Farm Adviser; Bertram Abney, General I. A. A. Insurance Agent; E. E. Harris, president, Lake-Cook Farm Supply Co., and A. D. Smith and L. A. Nordhausen, manager and assistant manager of the Lake-Cook Farm Supply Company.

Harvest Hybrid Corn Test Plot

The 60 variety hybrid corn test plot on the Park Allanson farm near Mundelein was harvested on Friday, Nov. 10, according to Farm Adviser Ray T. Nicholas, who had charge of weighing the corn harvested from each of the replicates. Each of the 60 varieties was planted in six different replicates consisting of 20 hills each. Preliminary estimates indicate that the yields among the different varieties will run from around 50 to over 100 bushels per acre. Mr. John Pendleton, of the Agronomy Department of the University of Illinois, considered this plot one of the best in the entire state. The performance of the different varieties in this plot will be used as a guide by farmers in Northeastern Illinois in selecting hybrid corn varieties for 1951 planting. Official results will be published the early part of the year.

4-H Achievement Meeting Nov. 25

The annual 4-H Club Achievement meeting will be held on Saturday, Nov. 25, at the Grayslake high school starting at 8 p. m., according to an announcement by Ray T. Nicholas and Helen Volk, farm and home advisers. All 4-H club members, their parents and friends are invited to attend. An interesting program consisting of games, songs, stunts, and short talks has been planned. One of the features of the meeting will be a skit by the four 4-H members who attended the State Leadership Camp this year. This will be presented by Daniel Stiehr, George Connell, Nadeline Murrie and Suzanne Groves.

The Lake County Bankers Federation will present a number of awards to 1st year club members completing their projects. The highlight of the evening will be the presentation of medals, ribbons, certificates, and cash awards to those club members completing their projects and doing outstanding work during the year. The achievement meetings brings to a climax the 1949-1950 club year.

LAKE VILLA

The Woman's Society of Christian Service will hold its annual Christmas sale on Wednesday, Dec. 6, at the church and serve a baked ham supper in connection. There will be a variety of articles for your Christmas list selection besides the fine supper for which this society is noted.

Mrs. Mabel Baker, of Withee, Wis., visited her niece, Mrs. Clarence Blumenschein a few days last week.

James Connell came up from St. Petersburg, Fla., to spend a few days hunting pheasants on the Wm. Weber farm and George Mitchell and friend, Mr. Wheeler, of Evanston, were out for Sunday. Each was able to get a pheasant. Many hunters were out on the farms and a number were fortunate enough to get a bird.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Somers, of Villa Woods, went to Chicago, last Friday to visit their son, Ted and family. Mr. Somers returned Sunday but Mrs. Somers remained for the week.

Ben Cribb has been confined to his home by illness during the past two weeks.

The firemen of Lake Villa, Antioch and Fox Lake, were called to the O. W. Lehmann farm on Rt. 59, before noon on Friday when a resident of the farm discovered smoke coming from the large farm barn loft, and defective wiring is thought to be the cause. One hundred tons of baled hay and 3000 bushels of oats stored in the barn also some equipment were burned, but no stock was in the barn. Mrs. Pride, wife of the farm foreman drove her car from the barn and her husband drove three tractors to safety. The building 110x38 ft was partially insured, but the loss of building and contents are estimated at $40,000. By work of the firemen, other nearby buildings were saved, a barn south and houses to the west.

Mrs. Bessie Boyer spent Sunday afternoon with her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Janisch and family at Barrington.

The members of the Halcyon club will sponsor a Christmas fair and card party at the grade school gym on Saturday evening, Nov. 25, opening at 8 p. m. Come and see the fine display they have and enjoy the evening. Card prizes and refreshments.

The 500 club met last Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Jake Fish at their home on Grand Ave. The first meeting of the group for the season was held two weeks ago with Mr. and Mrs. Will Fish at their home near Lake Zurich.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Anderson, of Burnett Ave., spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. Wm. Wobel and family in Chicago.

William W. Orme, of Father Basil's Rest home at Lake Villa was struck by a car while walking on Rt. 21 at Lake St., last Thursday when cars driven by Richard O. Sevik, of Burlington, and Louis Korkis, Lake Villa sideswiped while Sevik was passing. Mr. Orme was thrown to a ditch and killed instantly. Private funeral services were held Saturday at the Strang funeral home in Antioch. He leaves no relatives and had been at the rest home for two years.

Mrs. Roy Sweet and children have moved from near Ladysmith, Wis., and are living in a trailer in the yard of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Ducommun, on Oak Knoll Drive for the time. Her husband, who was in the Marine Reserve and has been called to active duty is in service. He entered last week.

The pinochle club held its regular pot luck dinner and party last week Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. Leona Johannes in Villa Woods subdivision and spent a pleasant time.

Mrs. Lulu Nelson is with her son, William Nelson, and family at Antioch for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Maurin have gone to Milwaukee for the winter to be more convenient to Mr. Murlin's work. Their daughter, Pat Killcher is a freshman at the college at Appleton, Wis.

Baltimore School, Babe Ruth's Home, Closed to Juveniles

BALTIMORE, Md.—For 84 years—since 1866—St. Mary's Industrial school in Baltimore carried on the work of turning many juvenile delinquents into solid citizens. Now it has closed its doors.

Among its products were two famous men—the late Babe Ruth and Al Jolson.

Babe Ruth entered the school when he was seven because his father, a saloon keeper, thought his environment around his place wasn't too good. Young Ruth was listed as an incorrigible, but in later years you could never get the monks at the school to agree that he was.

He stayed there until he was 18. The school must have made an impression on the future home run king. Father Albert, who knew him at the school, said Ruth once told him, when he was at the height of his glory: "We're all in life to do good. And I hope that when I die I will have lived so I can help the boys of America to live straighter and cleaner lives."

And there's Jolson. He visited the school last September for the first time in about 50 years.

"That's the yard where I used to play," the singer and actor said. "When was that? About the time of the Spanish-American war."

"I was a bad boy then, but not too bad. I had run away from home. I gave my brother's name, because he was supposed to be the black sheep of the family. After a few months my parents came from Washington and took me home."

President's Fancy Tie Puzzles Newspapermen

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Two St. Louis newspapermen were trying to decide just what pattern appeared on one of President Truman's ties.

"What's wrong, boys?" the President asked.

They told him. Mr. Truman looked down at the design as if seeing the tie for the first time, and said: "I don't know what it is—swans or something, I guess."

Now the newspapermen are wondering if Mrs. Truman picks the President's ties for him.

74-Year-Old Marine Takes Rifle Firing Test

QUANTICO, Va.—Usually it's the old salts of the Marine Corps who teach young leathernecks how to shoot with the startling accuracy for which the Marines are noted, but that situation was reversed recently when 74-year-old Master Sergeant Harry D. Bartley, of Philadelphia, reported to the rifle range along with many younger men to fire the carbine for annual re-qualification. His coach was a 20-year-old private.

Bartley, whose uniform sleeve is covered with bright red hashmarks representing 42 years of service, could have stopped firing the weapons courses when he was 35, but he chose to fire again this year. He has more straight enlisted time in the military service than any member of the Marine Corps.

Cleveland Man Invented Traffic Light 36 Years Ago

CLEVELAND, O.—August 5 will be the 36th birthday anniversary of the traffic light—that instrument that has given many Americans high blood pressure.

According to the Cleveland Automobile Club, on that day James B. Hoge hung up the first traffic light at a now bustling east-side intersection in Cleveland.

Hoge's first signal was hand operated by a policeman stationed at the corner, who would ring a bell and turn the light on whenever the nearby firehouse received a call.

The signal had full approval of the chamber of commerce and a few months later a second set was installed. However, Hoge's success was cut short when the lights were declared unnecessary and impractical.

Retired Officer Says Stalin Had Heart Attack

SALEM, Mass.—Col. Roland W. Estey, retired, a former officer of strategic services officer, has reported that Premier Stalin suffered a heart attack in June while on a plane flight.

The former officer said he received the news in a letter from Europe and that the information had been turned over to our intelligence agency.

According to Estey, Stalin was en route for a conference in the town of Chita, about 100 miles north of the Chinese border.

The attack apparently was of such a nature, Estey said, that it seemed wise to return him to Moscow and permit his impersonator to proceed on the trip.

The letter also contained this message, Estey said: "Watch Formosa or Chosen before the first of July." Chosen is another name for Korea.

Estey said his friend had the information six days before the aggression, leading to the belief the Communists in North Korea jumped the gun.

First Balloon Flight

A duck, a sheep, and a rooster may bear very little resemblance to a trio of goats, but that's what they were in September, 1783, when they were chosen as the first passengers of an ascension balloon. The flight was arranged by the Montgolfier brothers of France, and was witnessed by King Louis XVI.

"Carpetbaggers"

The carpetbag, used by William F. Harnden who originated the express business on March 4, 1839, came with the stage coach days. Carpetbags lost their wide popularity due to the odium connected with the "carpetbaggers" of the post civil war south.

Plumber Works 17 Years at Hobby To Build Railroad

CRESTON, Iowa — Byron Hiatt has been working on his hobby for 17 years. In that time he has built a real railroad, complete with two locomotives, two freight cars, a mail and baggage car, a passenger car with an observation platform and four trestles.

He operates it for passengers on Sundays and holidays.

The train also has a box car and a caboose. The locomotives are about 8 feet tall at the smokestacks and about 30 feet long, including the coal tender.

Everything is built to scale, the result of Hiatt's handcraft. One of the four trestles on his route is steel reinforced and about 70 feet across. Another spans a gully about 80 feet wide. Hiatt has them numbered so passengers will know they are riding on a railroad line with four trestles.

Hiatt fell in love with railroading when he was a boy. After high school, he went to work for the Burlington railroad. In 1944, he decided to build a miniature train of his own. As a railroad pipe fitter, he had gained much of the "know how" for the job, so he started to work.

At $2 a foot, Hiatt estimates he has invested about $8,400 in roadbed alone, and that's just one of the less costly items. He assembled the locomotives from parts he made or ordered from machine shops. The track was bought from coal mines. The passenger and freight cars were used to advertise the Burlington railroad before Hiatt bought and rebuilt them.

There is a regular roundhouse and train shed arrangement in the center of the area where the train is parked during the week.

Most of the work on the railroad has been done before work in the morning or in the evening.

"I get up at 5 a.m. and work on the railroad about two hours," Hiatt explained. "That way I gain an extra day a week."

Spanish American War Vet Gets Paid After 46 Years

LA CROSSE, Wis.—It took a while, but soldier Richard Klaber finally got paid.

The army veteran received a check for $374.30 to reimburse him for travel and subsistence expenses in getting home to Chicago after he was discharged from the army in Manila, P. I.

Klaber put in 10 claims before congress got around to appropriating the money to take care of his and other similar claims. Congress acted in 1945, 46 years after Klaber's first claim was filed. Klaber, you see, is 73 years old—a veteran of the Spanish American war.

Pullman Passengers

Passengers in Pullman cars traveled an average of 404 miles per trip in 1949.

American Soldiers Retain Right to Listen to Rumors

KOREA—Like in the last war, American soldiers are still holding on to their right to listen to and start rumors. In Korea they have a long list:

All United States troops will soon be withdrawn suddenly from Korea and the air force will drop a number of atom bombs on the Communist forces.

United States troops will not leave Korea but will remain for 25 years after the defeat of the North Koreans.

All North Korean tank crews are either padlocked into their tanks or chained within them.

Other United Nations are sending a total of one million troops to help in the battle against the Korean Reds.

Other United Nations plan to send no troops to Korea.

North Korean troops are being promised one acre of land for every fifty Americans they kill.

North Korean troops are fighting with guns at their backs.

Spanking No Worse Than 'Yakyakking,' Expert Says

LONG BEACH, Calif.—At last one expert does not disapprove of spanking.

Dr. Frank Tallman in a report to the Southern California Society for Mental Hygiene, reports:

"The youngster understands the righteous wrath aroused in the parent because he's felt the same way himself. But despite this understanding no youngster really appreciates a spanking."

Spanking leaves a child "sore in skin and soul" and hostile toward the parent. "Cold, needless spanking" can breed resentment and harm, he said, advocating a firm but not too harsh attitude.

Spanking is no cure-all but neither is it worse than the practice of sparing the rod and "yakyakking and explaining all the time," which can also breed hostility, he said.

Detroit Man Wins Freedom With One Lonely Penny

DETROIT, Mich.—Theodore Gordon won his freedom with a single penny.

When arrested for loitering he denied the charge in court.

"If you haven't got a penny in your pocket, you are loitering," the judge said.

Gordon dug through his pockets and produced one penny.

"Case dismissed," said the judge.

Hibernation

Some of the rodents, such as the woodchuck and ground squirrel, go through a lengthy hibernation. In all cases they gain sustenance to last through the winter by storing a thick layer of fat on their bodies. In some of the eastern caves, numerous bats hibernate throughout the long winter months, when insects—their food—are not available. Other types of bats migrate south, as birds do.

Carman Fair

"Hi-ho, come to the fair" had a very special lure for lawbreakers in the early days. While the rules at the fair were very strict, it was tradition that no one could be arrested for a crime he had committed elsewhere. The Irish carried this idea of immunity one step further. During the great Carman fair held every third August, all personal possessions held for debt had to be returned to the owners, and feuds between the clans of Ireland and Scotland temporarily were forgotten.

Flaxseed

Production of flaxseed as a source of linseed oil for paints advanced sharply in the United States during the war years when the ship shortage cut imports from Argentina. Except for 1946 it has since maintained or surpassed the wartime level, setting a record in 1948. Minnesota and the Dakotas alone produce about four-fifths of the crop.

Spreading Mosaic

Gardeners who use tobacco can spread mosaic to tomatoes and peppers. Wash hands with soap and water before handling plants to prevent spread of the disease.

Time to buy trucks
on something besides hearsay!

You can't afford to buy trucks by guess-work today. What you carry—how far and fast you carry it—under what road and traffic conditions—all must be considered in specifying the right truck for you in times like these.

That's our specialty as a GMC truck dealer—we are first and foremost transportation engineers. Our one aim is to recommend the exact combination of engine, frame, axles, transmission, cab and optional equipment that is best suited for your year-round hauling requirements. Come in and see us—whether you want a ½-ton pickup or a giant Diesel 90,000 lb. GCW six-wheeler. We can give you exactly the right truck—designed for longer mileage with less maintenance expense—and it will be a real truck, engineered for your type of work.

That's why GMC sales are greater today than ever before. Truckers find they are best in the long haul. Let us show you why.

Young Executives Parlay $10,000 Into $1 Million

CHICAGO — Four youthful executives, atomic physicists who helped develop the original A-bomb project at the University of Chicago, have run a $10,000 investment to more than a million dollars with a company that designs and manufactures nuclear gadgets.

The company's products range from machines costing upward of $10,000 down to small portable Geiger counters in the gadget-toy classification. The concern also processes for industrial and medical use the atomic-generating raw materials produced by the government atomic plant at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

The four youthful executives are James A. Schoke, 26, president; John L. Kuranz, 28; Thomas E. Mitchell, 27, and Emil W. Hinspater, 29, vice-presidents.

Going through the factory and laboratories is like taking a peek at the awesome future. Complicated testing apparatus, wiring setups and precision tools face one from every direction. Precision is so refined employees and visitors may not even wear radium-dial wrist watches in some areas.

Makes Nuclear Toys

Consumer-type goods, those available to "just folks" that the company produces, so far are pretty much confined to portable Geiger counters for experimentation or for prospecting for uranium ore.

The smallest of the company's Geiger counters is one being aimed at the forthcoming Christmas trade by a toy maker and distributor. It is enclosed in a cabinet which looks like a school lunch bucket, yet is claimed to be fully adequate to trace uranium ore deposits or lost radioactive materials.

It will be offered for two markets. The "boy" trade, starting at the age of nine, can use it in specially designed games. Older boys and adults can use it for various types of actual experimentation in radioactivity. The company has a manufacturing capacity of 500 of these sets a day and expects to produce 15,000 for the toy company.

The company has a more complicated counter which is sold by a large mail-order house. Ten thousand of this design will be produced.

New School Study

Soon to be in production is a static eliminator for newspaper presses. At present, the friction of rapidly moving paper in modern high-speed presses builds up so much static electricity the machines would stall if it weren't removed. To eliminate the static, presses now are equipped with a series of gas flame jets, the heat of which relieves the static condition.

The company's device will consist of a strip of radioactive isotopes which will serve the same purpose as the flame without the fire hazard and fuel expense.

A little more on the technical side is a classroom demonstrator called the "classmaster." This is aimed at adding a fourth "C" to the proverbial three in high schools, colleges, universities, namely radioactivity.

Speeding Fine Leaps Up, Up As Driver Spouts S5 Words

MILWAUKEE — A Milwaukee motorist talked himself into a fine — at $5 a sentence.

Charles Olecik was charged with speeding 40 miles an hour across a viaduct. He argued that the patrolman who arrested him couldn't have clocked him properly.

The judge heard both sides and accepted the patrolman's testimony. "Ten dollars and costs," he ruled.

"But, judge," Olecik said, "The officer was too far back to clock me."

"Fifteen dollars and costs," said the judge.

"But, your honor," said Olecik, "I waited a long time at a stop-light before the officer came along."

"Twenty dollars and costs," said the judge.

"I still say that he was too far back," said Olecik.

"Twenty-five dollars and costs," said the judge.

Olecek still argued, but the judge didn't raise the fine. He had reached the maximum.

Swing Bridge Runs Wild As Tender Dies at Post

KANSAS CITY — A swinging bridge over the Missouri river ran wild for an hour when the tender, William E. Koon, died at the controls.

Automobiles jammed on the approaches. An airline pilot and some plane passengers, among the stranded motorists, missed flights from the Kansas City airport. Two railroad locomotives were halted.

The structure was the 81-year-old Hannibal Bridge, one of two that carry traffic from Kansas City north over the Missouri. The span was opened for a tugboat and when the tender died at the controls it continued to swing.

After an hour watching the runaway bridge, three young men from cars in the traffic jam jumped aboard and smashed the controls, stopping the swinging span.

Danger in X-Ray

Careless use of the X-ray and other radioactive mechanisms at the present time may damage thousands of lives in future generations as far off as 3,000 years from now, according to a Nobel Prize-winning scientist.

Grow Chicks Outdoors

Move the chicks outdoors early. This will relieve the hazard of crowding the house floor and help to harden-off chicks. You will have to train the chicks to go in and out of the house.

Feather Pillows

If there's a slight odor when feather pillows are drying in your gas dryer, don't worry about it. Feathers are animal fibers and the odor is caused by the high temperature needed to get the pillows thoroughly dry.

Rail Mail

For carrying first-class mail, the post office department pays the railroads only about one-twenty-fifth as much per pound per mile as is paid for its transportation by air.

Steak Gravy

Elegant gravy for steaks: Boil two onions, press through sieve and use for thickening.

Nurse Tells How Hadacol
Was So Helpful To HerSupplied Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin
Which Her System Lacked

Mrs. Jennie Lee Adele, 412 N. 27 St., East St. Louis, Ill., a nurse, says she wishes she had found out about HADACOL sooner because since taking HADACOL she feels so good. Mrs. Adele was suffering a deficiency of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron which HADACOL contains.

Here is Mrs. Adele's own statement: "I have been a nurse for over 14 years. My food never seemed to agree with me. I heard one day how so many folks were being helped because of HADACOL. I tried it and after 3 bottles I could tell a big improvement. Now I eat anything I want—sleep well and I am full of energy."

Why HADACOL Gives
Such Fine Results

HADACOL does not bring just symptomatic relief. HADACOL now makes it possible to actually relieve the cause of aches and pains in the shoulders, legs and arms, certain nervous disturbances, and a general run-down weakened condition due to deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron in your system.

HADACOL not only supplies deficient systems with extra quantities of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron, and Niacin but also helpful amounts of important Calcium and Phosphorus —elements so vital to help maintain good health and physical fitness.

Why These Vitamins and
Minerals Come in Liquid Form

There's a very good reason why HADACOL comes in special liquid form. These precious Vitamins and Minerals are more easily and quickly absorbed into the blood stream this way—ready to go right to work. A big improvement is often noticed within a few days.

Don't Be A 'Doubting Thomas'

After reading Mrs. Adele's wonderful experience with HADACOL how can you doubt that this great new nutritional formula will help you if your system lacks Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron, and Niacin?

What HADACOL did for Mrs. Adele, it can do for you if you're troubled with aches and pains in the shoulders, legs, and arms, certain nervous disturbances, insomnia when due to an upset stomach, stomach distress and a general run-down weakened condition due to such deficiencies.

So what are you waiting for? Don't you see that HADACOL is the kind of product you need—the kind you should buy and the kind you should start taking immediately!

Sold On A Strict Money-Back Guarantee

HADACOL even helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to course through your body, carrying these great health-building elements to every body organ. No wonder HADACOL helps you feel wonderful.

Be fair to yourself! Give yourself a break if you have such deficiencies! Why continue to drag yourself around—a burden to yourself and your family—when relief may be as close at hand as your nearest drugstore if you suffer a deficiency of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron. This great HADACOL is inexpensive, too—costs only a small amount a day. Trial size, only $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order it direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana.

Bird in hand that's a Beauty and a Buy!

Now it can be told. This clean-lined, smart-stepping 1950 version is the most popular Buick ever built.

Ever since early in the present year, a value-wise public has been taking them away from us as fast as—or faster than—the great Buick factories could roll them out. Within recent weeks, production and sales have set an all-time record.

Only Buick has Dynaflo—and with it goes

HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PATTERN styling, with MULTI-GUARD fender, tail-top-through fenders, "double bubble" lights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil axles • SAFETY-RIDE rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.

Count off the distinguished and time-tried features of this winner and you'll know why.

It has a Very Exclusive Motor—Buick's own high-compression Fireball—which gets its driving power from a combustion chamber found in no other car in the world.

It has the bump-smothering softness of coil springs on all four wheels and a torque-tube drive—a comfort combination that no other car provides.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

It has Dynaflo Drive*—which ushered in a whole new concept of effortless travel.

It has a brilliant styling which sets it apart from every other car on the road.

And it has prices which say "buy me" to any motorist who's looking for maximum money's worth.

Isn't it sensible, while these great cars are still coming off the line, to check with your Buick dealer about getting one to call your own?

U.S. Women Harming Teeth With Bobby Pins

BOSTON, Mass.—Dr. S. S. Livingston reports that American women are causing great damage to their teeth with bobby pins.

The reason, women roll up their hair, hold it with one hand and then holding a bobby pin in the other, open it with their teeth.

A simple homemade device for opening bobby pins is to place as many pins as are needed for the hairdo around the rim of a drinking glass. With the flat side of the bobby pin facing the inside of the glass, one can pick off each bobby pin, already open—and the teeth need not be used.

Dangerous to Teeth

Besides opening bobby pins with their teeth, many girls are forming the dangerous habit of digging between their teeth with hairpins, bobby pins, common pins and toothpicks. Some do it to remove food; others, because they are nervous.

Toothpicks in one form or another have been in use probably for thousands of years. They are traceable to A. D. 23, when their use was first recorded. They were used in the Roman, Grecian and Chinese periods of history.

Various materials have been utilized—gold, silver, ivory, quills and now wood. It was a custom in colonial days for the luxurious host to offer his dinner guest an expensive gold or silver toothpick after his meal.

Chips Enamel

Today toothpicks are usually made of hard wood, such as birch or maple. Soft wood is avoided by manufacturers because it tends to fuzz and splinter, shedding slivers in the mouth when used.

Dr. Livingston says the bobby pin may add to feminine hair beauty, but they have come to be serious threats to the dental health of the girl who uses her teeth to open them. When a girl opens a bobby pin with her front teeth, she usually chips or breaks off the biting edge of her teeth. The tooth enamel microscopically is made up of enamel rods, just like the bricks that go to make up a brick house. Once these enamel rods begin to chip, they continue to break off until a part of the crown surface of the tooth is destroyed.

Americans Just Can't Take It Physically, Doctor Says

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — The modern American can't take it, Dr. C. H. McCloy of the University of Iowa, told a recent meeting of the association for physical and mental rehabilitation.

In fact, the average person who works is so out of shape physically that when the week-end arrives he has to take time off to rest up, says Dr. McCloy, although he admits fewer people get sick today.

"Americans seem to specialize in getting out of shape," the professor asserted. "Twenty years too soon they get down to the point where they don't have much life."

He believes a person 70 years old should be able to do a day's work if it is not too strenuous without feeling exhausted.

Even doctors ignore the importance of the annual physical examination, he said, adding:

"I'll bet that if you asked 10,000 doctors if they had a check-up last year, only 5 per cent of them could say they had."

Conducting research on physical education at the University of Iowa, Dr. McCloy said exercise is important in that "while it does not prolong life, it raises the quality of living."

Truman Collects 32 Year Old Debt on Western Tour

BURLINGTON, Iowa — President Truman collected a 32-year-old debt on his recent nation-wide tour.

Elmer Van Tine, an employee of the Iowa ordnance plant in Burlington, borrowed $25 from the President after the armistice in 1918 so he could make a trip to Kansas City to join the Shrine with Mr. Truman.

When the President's special train stopped at Burlington on the nation-wide tour, Van Tine came aboard and handed Mr. Truman a check for $50, explaining that half of it was interest.

The President accepted the check and told Van Tine: "Thank you. You didn't have to do this."

Van Tine was a cook in the President's World War I company.

Truthfulness Doesn't Pay Off for Chicken Thief

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — Matthew Simpson, 30, found that persistence and truthfulness, long considered virtues, did not pay off for him.

Halled into court, he admitted taking the same automobile from the same parking lot twice within four days. He also was charged with using the car in the theft of 30 chickens from Mrs. P. J. Roaza.

"That's not true, your honor," he said. "It was only 28, honest."

Simpson drew a two to four year term in the workhouse.

SHORT STORY

No Sale

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

"WE could sell Dusty," Sylvia said. Joe stared at her. "You don't mean that!" Dusty thumped his tail on the floor and pricked his ears. There was, he hoped, a possibility of being taken for a walk up the slope behind the house where rabbits frequently ran and offered no end of excitement.

Sylvia laughed nervously. "Of course I don't. I was only joking. We wouldn't sell Dusty for a million dollars."

She reached down and twisted one of Dusty's flopping ears around her forefinger. Dusty lolled his tongue and sighed in contentment. Next to chasing rabbits, there was nothing he liked better than having his ears twisted, unless it was hunting a glove or an old shoe or pocketbook that either Joe or Sylvia had hidden.

Joe lay awake that night and thought about what Sylvia had said. He felt guilty and ashamed, but when you haven't enough to eat and you own some property that would bring an easy thousand dollars on the open market, you can't help thinking about it.

Sylvia's aunt had given them Dusty the week before they left for Hollywood. He was seven weeks old, a pure bred Springer Spaniel, black as coal and intelligent as two ordinary human beings.

The next morning Joe decided to go down onto the boulevard. Sometimes on the boulevard he met someone he knew and would get talking and perhaps get a line on something. He put Dusty on his leash and started out.

Joe turned down Vine street. Just below Selma, some children were playing on a lawn. One of them was crying. Joe stopped to see what the trouble was. A little girl had lost her rag doll. It was somewhere about, but she couldn't find it. Dusty licked the little girl's hand. She cooed happily and patted his head. The other children crowded about. Joe unsnapped Dusty's leash, held the little girl's skirt to his nose and said: "Go find!"

Dusty let out a yip and went bounding away. Two minutes later he came back, holding in his mouth the rag doll. The little girl clapped her hands. "Smart dog," said a voice.

Joe turned. A car had stopped at the curb. A small round man with a friendly face had emerged onto the sidewalk. Joe nodded. "Pure bred Springer. They're all smart."

"Are they?" said the little man. His eyes twinkled. "Like to sell him?" Joe said nothing. He felt a queer prickling at the base of his skull. "Like to sell him?" said the man again.

"How much?" said Joe, not looking at him.

"Nine hundred."

JOE thought of Sylvia. She was probably hungry. She'd be hungrier tonight. The only alternative was city relief. A man has his pride. He remembered the hug Sylvia had given Dusty before they left. He thought of the way Dusty would nip at their toes when they were getting dressed in the morning.

He shook his head. "No!" he said. "No! Not for twice that amount."

The rotund man laughed. "Then how about hiring him? You, too, of course. We're making a picture that requires a cute dog who will go find things that have been hidden."

Joe threw up his head. "What?" "Think it over," said the rotund man. "Pay would be $25 a day. Here's my card." He smiled. "Hope I didn't insult you with that nine hundred offer. Your dog's worth two thousand, if a cent. Never saw a pure black Springer with those lines. Be sure to look me up. If $25 doesn't suit you, we can probably talk terms."

Joe stood on the curb and watched the black limousine recede. He glanced at the card, then down at Dusty. Dusty was watching him expectantly. He wanted to walk some more. Joe slipped the card into his pocket and started up Vine street at a pace that rather surprised Dusty.

"How much?" said Joe, not looking at him.
